

THE STANFORD INTERIOR JOURNAL.

VOLUME XXXVIII. NO. 68.

STANFORD, LINCOLN COUNTY, KENTUCKY. TUESDAY, AUGUST 29, 1911.

EVERY TUESDAY AND FRIDAY.

M'DERMOTT TO SPEAK HERE ON COUNTY COURT DAY And Republicans Will Have Morrow On Hand Also—Shanks Nomin- ated for Representative

Lincoln county voters will have the opportunity of hearing one of the ablest men in the democratic party speak here next County Court day, Monday, Sept. 11th. Hon. Ed ward J. McDermott, the nominee for Lieutenant Governor, will speak at the court house at that time in the interest of the democratic ticket. The republican leaders here also state that Hon. Edwin P. Morrow, of Somerset, a nephew of Senator Bradley, will speak here on the same day, in which event, it is not im probable that a joint discussion may be arranged between the two dis tinguished men.

Local Political Notes.

Hon. W. H. Shanks was declared the democratic nominee for Repre sentative from Lincoln county last week, for the third time, no opposi tion having developed to him. The primary which had been called by the county committee will now be declared off. Mr. Shanks is an ac tive candidate for the Speakership of the next House and stands a fine chance of winning.

Plans are being made for a vigor ous campaign in Lincoln county this fall and it is believed that the ma jority in Lincoln for McCreary will be the largest it has given in a num ber of years. Rowan Sautley, of the I. J. staff, will be appointed cam paign chairman for Lincoln county, paugh chairman for Lincoln and will perfect a strong organization to get every vote out to the polls.

The democrats of Lincoln are go ing to watch very closely the vari ous candidates for county offices who have already intimated that they will run next time. Those who do the best work for the state ticket this fall are the ones who should and undoubtedly will be the favorites with the rank and file of the party. Every prospective candidate will be expected from now on to keep his own candidacy in the back ground until after the state election, and roll up his sleeves and go to work for the state ticket. The Interior Journal will keep a watchful eye on the work that the candidates are doing and will chronicle from time to time just what interest they are taking and what efforts they are putting forth to secure the election of McCreary and the entire state ticket. The race on now, is going to prove a mighty good time for them to prove the quality of their democracy. Each and every one of them should lay aside all personal feeling factional spirit and enter heartily into the campaign to roll up an unprecedented majority in Lin coln county. Those who are not willing to do so, and work in har mony with other democrats in this campaign, deserve no consideration at the hands of the party and should be remembered when they come ask ing its favors. Let's all get together and make it all one way in good old Lincoln.

So violent had been the flow of blood from the wound that every stitch of the bed clothing upon which he lay before severing the vein was soaked with blood and pools had gathered all over the floor. Physicians say that death must have come very quickly.

STURGES, OF TEXAS, IS HERE

Will Take Out Another Party of Prospectors on September 5.

Mr. W. M. Sturges, general sales agent of the Texas Land Develop ment Co., of Kansas City, Mo. is here in the interest of his company. Mr. Sturges recently took a party of Kentuckians to see his land, all of whom indorsed his proposition after having made a careful inspection of same. Mr. Sturges will take another party, leaving here on Sept. 5th.

"I am very well pleased with the results of my last trip," said Mr. Sturges. "The gentlemen who went with me verified all my statements and were greatly impressed with our proposition. I showed them alfalfa which will cut nine times yearly and produce a ton to the cutting; Egyptian wheat which will produce over one hundred bushels to the acre, two crops per year; land that had none the owner over $300 per acre on 500 acres and had a good crop of corn on it while they were there. I showed them five fig trees from which the figs were picked and preserved and were sold for $240. Our lands are in southern Texas, near San Antonio where we have no crop failures or droughts. The summers are cool and the winters are open. We grow two crops per year; fertilizers are never used. I know of many instances where one crop has paid for the land."

The fact that such men are inter ested as Sheriff W. L. McCarty W. S. Fish and J. W. Acey of Stanford Judge Lincoln Wells, of Liberty is a guarantee of what we claim for our land. Read the following letters

Stanford, Ky., Aug. 28, 1911

To whom it may concern:—

While I have not person ally inspected or examined the hold ings of the Texas Land Development Company, in Texas, I have talked with parties who have been upon the land and inspected the same. Mr. W. S. Fish of Stanford and others from what they say it seems to me that this company has a splendid tract of land which is a great crop producer. The soil is very rich and deep and there is plenty of water for irrigation purposes.

I would advise anyone who wants a highly productive farm, to inspect this property, where two crops can be grown every year.

Go down and look the situation over you will never know the ad vantages of that country until you see and inspect it yourself.

Yours,

W. L. McCARTY.

Stanford, Ky., Aug. 12 '11

To whom it may concern:—

I have thoroughly in spected the Texas Land Development Company's land and water supply and find it even better than repre sented. The soil is remarkably rich and strong and no fertilizers are needed or used. The artesian water is pure and wholesome and there is a great quantity of it. The water storage reservoir is the largest I saw in that section.

The Company employs a large force of men in making various im provements and they are well equi pped for handling their business. I found all their representations to be correct in every case, except in a number of instances they did not make their representations as strong as they should.

Yours Truly

(Signed) W. S. FISIL

Mr. Sturges will be at the St. Asaph Hotel all this week and will be glad to talk with anyone who is interested in Texas Lands.

KILLING IN MONTICELLO.

Porter Eads Shot To Death by Willam Phillips.

William Phillips shot Porter Eads to death in Monticello Thursday, af ter some little trouble between the men over a dog.

Mrs. Fronia Rankin, of Wayne county wrote the following account of the killing to her father, Mr. J. H. Eads here on Friday.

"Bill Phillips walked into Porter Eads' soda fountain and shot him dead; the ball passed entirely through his body, through the coun ter and on through the store wall to the street.

Of course he died suddenly. Phillips stood the sheriff off for a while, but no more shots were fired and when he was arrested and started to jail they were an hour getting there; feeling was so high they feared a mob would get him last night.

He shot Porter where he sat in his office chair; gave him no chance at all to defend himself. They had had some slight trouble over a dog, but it was a mere nothing. It took several men to hold cousin Roe (Eads' father) and do anything with him, but last night they phoned to Rankin that he had broken down and was in an awful condition. Por ter's wife (Leo Wright's daughter) is in a very delicate state of health and it may prove fatal to her; she is so young too. I don't reckon any thing more terrible ever happened Last night they said the town was perfectly wild. I suppose he will be buried today. I feel awfully sorry for all of them. Porter had such a good name and stood so well among men. He was only 25 years old.

The Danville Advocate says: Wil liam Phillips who killed Porter Eads in Monticello Thursday evening was landed in the Danville jail for safe keeping Friday afternoon. It was feared that Phillips would be mob bed and Wayne county officers took him from the jail there Thursday night and hid him out in the knobs until he was spirited to Burnside where the train was taken for Danville. Phillips formerly lived in Jun cion City, having left there about 12 years ago. It appears that he killed Eads in the heat of passion, hav ing become aroused because his five pup had been hot dropped. It is not known when he will be returned to Monticello for trial.
